

LYDIA CUTTER

"Making photographs for a living has allowed me a captivating way to be and play in the world... I am honored and grateful that I have been lead to this wonderful craft. I don't know whether my innate sensitivity defined my visual sense or whether repeated visual tests have honed my sensitivity, but whatever it is, my world has been greatly enhanced by the way I see and interpret it.

As a fine art photographer I make every effort to bring a provocative quality to all of my commercial projects yet I am only part of the equation... I have had the pleasure of collaborating with many great designers who provide the beautiful spaces I photograph."
